WHAT TO DO WHEN SOMEONE DIES...

WHO TO CONTACT

If the death is expected, this will need to be confirmed by a qualified medical professional. Call the deceased's GP or NHS 111 to arrange this. They can then be taken into care by a funeral director.

If the death is unexpected, call the emergency services. They will attend, and arrange transportation of the deceased to hospital. The coroner (procurator fiscal in Scotland) will be involved and will update you on next steps.

If they are in hospital, the death will be confirmed by a qualified medical professional, and they will be kept in the hospital facilities, until a funeral director is instructed to collect them.

ORGANISING THE FUNERAL

You can start this whenever you feel ready. There are things which may need to be done prior to finalising a date e.g. registration, coroner's investigation, arranging finance. However there are other elements that you can be working on in the meantime e.g. the service, music, clothing.

HOW TO REGISTER A DEATH

A medical certificate (often referred to as death certificate) will be issued by the deceased's doctor or the hospital. You will need this to register the death.

You need to register the death within 5 days in England and Wales and within 8 days in Scotland. You can register the death by contacting the registrar's office local to where the person died. If the coroner is involved registration takes place after their investigation is complete.

OUR TOP TIPS

No question is a silly question - don't be afraid to call us and ask as many questions as you need to.

Take your time - you can only arrange a funeral once, so take as much time as you need to make sure it is everything you want it to be.

Get involved - don't assume that you have to have spend money on cars, flowers, celebrants, or even funeral directors! You can choose to take on as much or as little as you wish. We can offer advise to help guide you through.

You are in charge - you are paying the funeral director for their services, so make sure they fulfil your wishes. If they don't/won't you have chosen the wrong company.

WHO ARE GO AS YOU PLEASE?

Our role at Go As You Please is to provide families with the advice, products and services they need to create unique celebrations of life. We've dedicated years to exploring different ways of helping families to say goodbye, that better reflects their individuality. After all, every person has lived a different & varied life so they should be able to truly go as they please.

In our ongoing quest to fulfil families' wishes and offer alternative solutions, we have not only gained vast amounts of expert knowledge, but have also built up an unrivalled portfolio of products and services. From in house bespoke coffin design, to our own natural burial ground, to our chapel service facilities.

OUR CHAPELS

THE IFPS

Protected Funeral Plans

Funerals are an Appointed Representative of The IFPS.

PREPAID FUNERAL PLANS

Plan a celebration as unique as your life.

We offer a full range of prepaid funerals plans from our funeral plan provider Independent Funeral Planning Services (IFPS). The IFPS are authorised and regulated by the Financial Conduct Authority (FCA), and Go As You Please

HOW IT WORKS

The IFPS offer a range of flexible funeral plans which can be tailor made to be as simple or elaborate as you desire. Funeral plan prices can be found in the current brochure and are subject to an administration fee of £295 per plan.

You can purchase a plan by booking an appointment with a trained member of staff at Go As You Please, who will help you to select a plan and will complete a simple suitability assessment and application form with you.

Once you have selected and paid for a plan, your money is held securely in an independent trust fund. Here it is invested carefully, to guarantee that at the time of need the cost of your funeral is guaranteed, regardless of rising industry prices and inflation.

At the time of need, your funds are withdrawn from the trust, and Go As You Please carry out your funeral according to the arrangements agreed at time of purchase.

SELECTING A PLAN

We recommend that when taking out a funeral plan you primarily ensure that the 'essential' costs are covered. Our 'Direct Cremation' plan covers this and can be customised at time of need or at your convenience.

Please contact Go As You Please if you would like further information, or to book an appointment.
